

Dr.Parag Rindani

As Group CEO of Wockhardt Hospitals, I am entrusted with leading high-performing teams across multi-city operations in Mumbai, Rajkot, and Nagpur, ensuring delivery of quality patient care while driving long-term business growth. My journey spans over two decades, bridging frontline clinical expertise and executive leadership, underpinned by a solid academic foundation—MD in Microbiology, MBA in Finance, and a specialization in Healthcare Management.

I bring hands-on expertise in hospital commissioning, consultant engagement, quality frameworks, digital transformation, and healthcare marketing. As a published contributor to the AHPI's Handbook on Healthcare Quality and Patient Safety, I advocate for outcome-based care systems and robust clinical governance. Internationally, I've delivered hospital management programs across India, Singapore, Maldives, Sri Lanka, and Bahrain, offering cross-border insights into evolving healthcare models.

Recognized as a thought leader, I'm frequently invited to speak on topics like healthcare finance, accreditation, infection control, and digital strategy. My leadership philosophy is rooted in measurable impact, disciplined execution, and the continuous pursuit of excellence.
